The two players are Indian prisoners.

The first player writes the name of a city, country, famous actor, colour, animal, etc. on a sheet of paper at the beginning of the game but hides it in his pocket.

Imagine General Custer is listening to you. You can't give the name aloud.

So, the second player must use the code given to discover the letters.

If he (she) wants to know if the secret word has an L in it, he (she) can ask :

Is Dirty Chicken here ?

The first player can answer :

Yes, Dirty Chicken is in the camp !

Or,

No, Dirty Chicken is missing !

The second player can ask 12 questions.

If he can't find the secret word at the end of the 12 questions, General Custer will be suspicious and will put him into jail !
