

TEACH-THIS.COM

Illustrations

| | |
|---------------------------------------|---|
| They're relaxing on the beach. | He's singing in the shower. |
| They're speaking Japanese. | She's doing yoga. |
| He's waiting for a bus. | She's listening to the dance music. |
| They're having a party. | He's washing his car. |
| She's going to bed. | They're playing badminton. |
| She's washing her hair. | He's riding his motorbike. |
| They're playing snooker. | She's sending an email. |
| She's eating noodles. | They're having dinner in a restaurant. |
| He's cooking a steak. | She's flying a kite. |
| They're studying English. | They're playing chess. |

TEACH-THIS.COM

Illustrations

Here is a creative activity for practicing the present continuous tense.

Procedure

Divide the class into two teams A and B.

One student from team A comes up to the board.

The student is given a present continuous card.

The student then draws the sentence without writing words or letters and without speaking.

Team A then has one minute to try to guess the sentence. They must guess exactly what's on the card.

Tell the students that the sentence always begins with a pronoun (he, she, or they).

If they cannot guess correctly after one minute, Team B can try to answer.

One point is awarded for each correct guess.

Then, team B plays and so on.

The first team to ten points wins the game.